

Production Area:

The smooth hills surrounding the city of Marsala in Western Sicily.

Grapes:

Made from a single grape, typical in Sicily, called Nero d'Avola.

Colour:

Deep ruby red.

Bouquet:

Vinous and pleasant, recalling a slightly bitter almond flavour.

Taste:

Full, slightly tannic, velvet and lasting.

Service:

At room temperature, opening the bottle at least 1 hour before serving. Store in a dry and fresh room, preserve it from light.

Food Suggestions:

Perfect with flavoursome dishes and seasoned cheeses.

Production Area:

The smooth hills surrounding the city of Marsala in Western Sicily.

Grapes:

Made from a single grape, typical in Sicily, called Nero d'Avola. Aged in barriques.

Colour:

Deep ruby red.

Bouquet:

Vinous and pleasant, it recalls the taste of bitter almonds.

Taste:

Full, slightly tannic, velvet and lasting.

Service:

At room temperature, opening the bottle at least 1 hour before serving. Store dry and fresh room, preserve from light. This wine can age for 4/5 years.

Food Suggestions:

Perfect with flavorsome dishes and red meats.

Production Area:

The smooth hills surrounding the city of Marsala in Western Sicily.

Grapes:

Nero d'Avola vinified in rosè.

Colour:

Bright pink with hints of coral.

Bouquet:

Fruity and inviting.

Taste:

Fresh and full-bodied.

Service:

Always well chilled

Food Suggestions:

Perfect as an aperitif, with fish or white meats.

Production Area:

The smooth hills surrounding the city of Marsala in Western Sicily.

Grapes:

Two typical Sicilian grapes: Inzolia and Grecanico.

Colour:

Pale yellow.

Bouquet:

Delicate and fruity.

Taste:

Pleasantly soft and full-bodied.

Service:

Always well chilled.

Food Suggestions:

Perfect with fish, white meats and fresh dishes.

Production Area:

The smooth hills in the South-West part of Sicily with a gentle a sea breeze.

Grapes:

An interesting combination between two typical Sicilian grapes: Grillo and the Vermentino recently planted on the Island.

Colour:

A luminous golden yellow.

Bouquet:

Intense, aromatic with gentle tropical fruit notes.

Taste:

A unique united concentration of fruit and minerals.

Service:

Always well chilled.

Food Suggestions:

Great to be sipped in company but excellent with fish and Mediterranean salads.